

LOOKING AHEAD 24 MONTHS

On the basis of prospective action by the Nebraska unicameral legislature, and the conditions confronting local political subdivisions in an era of inflation, coupled with accumulating building needs, this is what the people of Lincoln have to look forward to in the next two years:

- 1—Continuation of the additional one-mill levy upon all real and personal property by Sanitary District No. 1 (5 mills in all) for another four years.
- 2—Removal of the ceiling of a maximum 22 mills now imposed upon the Lincoln school board. (In presenting the request for removal of the ceiling, the board indicated that, in its judgment, an increase from 22 to 24 mills might be necessary in the next two years—a hike of $2 per $100 valuation.)
- 3—An inevitable, unavoidable added burden of state and county government. This does not take into consideration a starved city treasury which has almost reached the end of its rope in endeavoring to stretch its greatly-depreciated dollars to meet its needs.
- 4—A new, proposed one-quarter mill levy for five years upon real estate and personal property for a soil conservation program in the Salt-Wahoo watershed; a new one-tenth of a mill levy for recreational purposes in the same area; plus authority to issue bonds to carry on work, plus authority to levy assessments against benefited property for the same work.

It would seem that some discussion of these measures is in order. Four years ago, Sanitary District No. 1 appeared to the legislature for an added mill levy. It is requesting that additional mill ($1 per $1,000 of assessed value) for the next four years. Members of the board said that the bulk of the proceeds from the mill tacked on four years ago has been spent for the straightening of the Salt creek channel to alleviate flood conditions. It wants the added mill throughout the next four years for the purpose of expanding Lincoln's sewage disposal plant, built in 1923, or 28 years ago, expanded in 1937, and again in 1941. The board has secured studies by Black & Veach, nationally known engineers of Kansas City, and they have drawn up a program of expansion and modernization estimated to cost $750,000. Sewage disposal is a matter of health and sanitation—a "must" in any community. The uncertain status of Sanitary District No. 1 in connection with the projected Salt-Wahoo watershed program raises a question that should be settled before final action by the legislature.

The request by the Lincoln school board to the legislature to remove the ceiling limitation upon the school levy does involve the matter of giving the board the equivalent of a blank check, a dubious grant that invariably has inspired opposition from the taxpayers. As presently constituted, Lincoln is fortunate that it has an unusually capable, outstanding board of education, made up of members of sound business judgment, coupled with a high sense of responsibility. Lincoln has experienced its greatest population growth within the last ten years—the physical plant of the Lincoln school district is faced with a heavy increase in school attendance. The youngsters cannot be neglected. They cannot be crowded into packed school rooms, rooms now taxed to capacity. One of the burdens of any growing community is to provide facilities sufficient to meet the needs of an expanded population. Schools come first among those needs, and this paper is willing to place implicit trust in its board of education.

Something of the same situation confronts state, county and city government. The decline in the purchasing power of the dollar, reflected in salary requirements, in the cost of equipment and supplies, and in every other item that enters the cost of government, whether it be 1,500 miles away, or directly at arm's length on the local level, becomes a matter of great concern and importance.

Finally, there is this brand new promotion involving the Salt-Wahoo Watershed association. It seeks a quarter-mill levy on all real and personal property, urban and rural, in the Salt creek basin to provide soil conservation engineering plants for the farms in the Salt creek basin, subject to approval by the voters. It seeks a tenth of a mill levy for recreational purposes in the same program. In each instance, it expects to draw upon the never-failing purse of Uncle Sam for the bulk of a soil conservation and flood control program. (Ninety percent of the final costs, we are told.) It may be a little bit brutal, a little bit cruel, to dangle that hope before the eyes of a good many people in view of Uncle Sam's depleted revenues, the prospect of a military budget of astronomical size for a considerable period of years. In addition, this new proposal calls for the power to issue bonds and to levy assessments against benefiting property.

There it is, with but one notable exception. That exception is the promise of greatly increased federal income taxes, which advance reports say will fall chiefly upon those with incomes of $5,000 a year or less. Prudence and common sense suggest that people take time out to think.

NOT DESERVING A CRUMB

There is still blood on the moon when it comes to building highways, so far as Publisher Gene Kemper, of The Alliance Times-Herald, is concerned.

He notes that a delegation of citizens from southeast Nebraska visited Governor Val Peterson last week, asked the governor to have the state highway department hard-surface a 24-mile stretch of state highway 82 from Wilber to Beatrice. Represented in the delegation were residents of DeWitt, Wilber, Crete, and Beatrice. This is the manner in which Mr. Kemper feels the governor should have handled the request of this delegation:

"Governor Peterson should have pulled the book on this delegation—the election book of last November 7. He would have found that Saline county where Crete and Wilber are located, voted down highway department bills 3,108 votes to 2,128. Gage county, where DeWitt and Beatrice are located, voted them down 4,362 to 2,862. Thus these people bit the hand that they are now asking to feed them. They don't deserve a crumb."

That is perhaps the best argument for the creation of a Nebraska state highway commission with the power not only to recommend but actually to plan a statewide system of long-range highway construction. The mere thought that one man in the governor's office has the power to give or to take away, according to the way people vote, is repugnant to any common-sense approach to the exceedingly difficult problem of meeting all the demands for highway construction, understandable demands based upon local pride and a desire that extends to every area for good roads of an all-year, serviceable character. Of course Governor Peterson did not handle that delegation on the basis of the prescription laid down by Publisher Kemper. The governor has altogether too much sense for that.

We take it that the people of both Saline and Gage counties have been contributing their proportionate share to the state highway program since its early beginnings. They have been paying their license fees and paying gasoline taxes on exactly the same basis that the people of every other county in the state pay. If, in a time of high tax burdens, which are certain to be much more severe, they decide in their wisdom against an additional cent of gasoline tax and a higher license fee for motor vehicle registration, they are exercising only the right of citizens. Mr. Kemper should jump into a snow bank in an effort to cool off, if there is any snow out his way.

something else again. The easiest way to get a decision on the issue, if actually there is one, is to dump it into the lap of congress. Then a lot of the members of the congress who do so much talking about using Chiang Kai-shek's forces would either have to fish or cut bait. This is to suggest that 90 per cent of the members would run to cover.

Drivers, Not Cars

It is all very well for an Iowa psychologist to propose that automobiles should be made to glow in the dark to cut down night accidents, but he has failed to get to the root of the problem.

The suggestion is that a "reflective sheeting" instead of the usual paint finish should be put on cars. The new-type sheeting would pick up the light of headlights from approaching cars, thereby making it easier to see for drivers, passengers and pedestrians.

The real solution, however, lies not in making cars glow in the dark, but in keeping away from their cars those drivers who insist upon alcoholically glowing in the dark.

—Washington Merry-Go-Round— IMPROVED TACTICS IN KOREA REDUCED AMERICAN LOSSES

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON.—Some senators seem to believe that it is a criminal matter for a newspaper to criticize military mistakes. This is a view also shared by many brass hats—though not all. However, mistakes are sometimes rectified through knowing about them, and a case in point is the magnificent manner in which Gen. Matthew Ridgway has profited from the mistakes of General MacArthur in turning a tragic defeat into Korean victory.

Editor's note: It is not altogether clear what "victory" Mr. Pearson refers to. Apparently he had written his column that appears here before the Chinese communist counterattack.

While the very loyal MacArthur clique may argue that he is still supreme commander in Tokyo, and therefore deserves credit for the current victory, the indisputable facts are that General Ridgway was sent to Korea from Washington where he had been deputy chief of staff and as such was in close contact with the Pentagon's views of warfare. It also is an indisputable fact that Ridgway won his victory with no new fresh troops and facing a somewhat stronger enemy than had MacArthur.

According to military observers who read the battle dispatches, here is how Ridgway accomplished his remarkable feat: CAREFUL INTELLIGENCE.—MacArthur conducted only limited patrolling for three or four days before launching his attack. Then, after the attack boomeranged, the Eighth army retreated so fast that it lost all contact with the enemy and for several weeks didn't know where the communists were.

In contrast, Ridgway conducted aggressive patrolling for eight to 10 days before kicking off his offensive. He sent heavy patrols deep into enemy territory in so-called "reconnaissance in force." His orders were to disrupt any communist build-up, to inflict as many casualties as possible and to survey enemy positions. The lack of patrolling by MacArthur failed to detect the Chinese communist build-up that swept our armies back to the 38th parallel. Ridgway's troops knew exactly what to expect.

PUBLIC RELATIONS.—MacArthur announced his offensive the same morning it was launched, predicting his troops would be "home by Christmas." Ridgway waited until his offensive had been rolling over 24 hours before announcing it.

POOR BATTLE LIAISON.—MacArthur struck in all directions at once. His troops were fanned out from one end of North Korea to the other, in no position to head off a surprise counterattack. The Eighth army and Tenth corps also had no battle liaison, had to co-ordinate their actions through Tokyo.

In contrast, Ridgway opened his attack on the western front, but didn't order his eastern front to move until nine days later—after he was sure all was going well. He had the added advantage of being in full command in the field, and wasn't forced to direct two fronts by remote control from Tokyo.

CONTRAST IN CASUALTIES.—MacArthur suffered devastating casualties after the Chinese hit, lost more than 15,000 casualties in two weeks. Later, the marines, who broke out of the Chosin reservoir trap, mowed down the Chinese at a ratio of 20 to one. However, Ridgway's losses during the first two weeks of his offensive were the lightest of the Korean war. He suffered less than 1,500 casualties at the same time taking a toll of 52,000 communist casualties.

In fairness to MacArthur and in tribute to the air force, Ridgway has been meeting more scattered opposition. This is largely because the air force has raked enemy positions with devastating fire—bombs and rocket fire. Ridgway's aggressive, armored patrols also killed and routed out communists along the path of the offensive. As a result, the main Chinese communist force is reported to be digging in north of the 38th parallel.

It should also be pointed out that MacArthur's supply lines in North Korea were stretched, whereas the Chinese communists were then only a few miles from their supply bases. This situation has now been reversed.

FOREIGN POLICY

Secretary of State Dean Acheson got an education on the head-aches of senators at a private luncheon for new members of the foreign relations committee.

Over the coffee cups, Sen. Guy Gillette, the white-haired solon from Iowa, turned to Acheson.

"Every congressman has been swamped with mail on foreign policy," he said. "I've had 6,000 letters alone on this topic since Christmas. People are confused and bewildered. They want to know what our policy is and why. The hostility toward the state department can be traced right back to the bewilderment of the people."

"Well, what should we do about it?" Acheson inquired.

"Tell the story over and over again," was Gillette's advice. "Why are our boys fighting in Korea? Why do we need an army for the defense of western Europe? Why must we raise taxes and impose controls and rationing for defense? Tell the story simply."

"We are doing all we can, senator," said the secretary of state. "Members of the department are speaking as never before."

Senator Gillette shook his head. "There are only two people who carry the weight to be listened to—the president and you, Mr. Secretary. You must stump the country, if need be, to explain and sell our foreign policy."

EISENHOWER HAS DUAL ROLE IN GUIDING EUROPEAN DEFENSE

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON.—So much is demanded of General Eisenhower both at home and abroad, pressures are being applied here that tend to force him into the role of politician rather than soldier.

On the one hand are those who want to pin him down on the numbers of American sea and air power to be committed to that area. This now has Marquis Childs become a partisan political issue.

To get Eisenhower on the record on that one must serve a partisan purpose in the not-too-distant future. If for any one of several reasons, most of them beyond his control, the policy of rebuilding Europe's strength should fail, then he would be tagged with failure. Quite apart from political considerations, a commander going into the field to assume an extremely difficult command should be allowed the kind of flexibility that Ike wants.

On the other hand, because the European program depends for its acceptance on Eisenhower's popularity and prestige, the Truman administration has tended to let far too large a share of the burden fall on him. The effect is to prod him into "selling" the policy. Granted that he is a superb salesman, this is a distortion of his real function, which is to carry out in the field a hazardous undertaking. The very fact of this distortion, and particularly if he is drawn deeper into a political dispute, may compromise his effectiveness.

His own desire is to return to Europe and get on with the job as quickly as possible. His sense of timing tells him that it is imperative to start building a concrete organization at once while hope and enthusiasm are still in the first flush. The Europeans, whom he did so much to encourage and inspire, would never understand delay.

The example of France illustrates this very well. Prime Minister Rene Pleven returned to Paris from his successful Washington visit prepared to take the series of bold steps that he outlined in talks with American officials.

At the outset Pleven intends to bring about passage of an electoral reform law that will end the system of proportional representation that today results in such a false allocation of the seats in parliament.

Under a law reflecting France's true divisions, the communists would be cut down to fewer than 50 seats. Parties on the right, conspicuously the De Gaulleists, would come up.

With such a change Pleven's own government, as he candidly explained to President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson, may not be returned to office in new elections. But he faced this prospect philosophically, believing that the primary step of electoral reform is essential for the creation of a solid political base on which French military strength can be rebuilt.

It was the quality of solid, unemotional determination to do what was right and necessary that impressed everyone who met with Pleven during his brief stay. He in turn talked of the current situation and hope which Eisenhower stirred on his visit to the capitals of the North Atlantic treaty nations. In his visit with the French prime minister Ike had talked about the greatness of France's past and the need for Frenchmen to recall the days when they had overthrown tyrants and had sent a new pulse of freedom coursing through the world. He is the only man, as Pleven put it, who can talk to the French and not anger the Germans and talk to the Germans and not anger the French.

But now that Pleven is about to embark on a program that will be unpopular in many quarters, he is going to want to know that the work of putting together a unified defense command for the west is progressing as rapidly as possible. It is just here that Eisenhower's return to Europe at the earliest possible moment is seen to be so important. The initial persuasiveness of that first quick visit can wear thin if it is not followed up.

At the same time, however, it is true that in this country the enthusiasm of the response to his confident resolute report on his European inspection trip may wear off with the passage of time. Opponents of the policy may be counting on this as they raise fresh doubts about details of the European program.

Senate hearings on the respective powers of the president and congress in this matter are beginning. They may serve a useful purpose in shedding additional light on the relationship between the reality of Soviet imperialism and fundamental law and its interpretation in our own constitutional system. But Eisenhower has no further role in this debate. As commander, he should return to Europe to do the task for which he is so well qualified.

'We Are The People' ... More Than A Teacher —A Fellow Playmate

We are the people. All of us, in one way or another, are teachers, for by our actions or words we influence every day the lives of others.

A man who knows the importance of such endeavor is Chester Dill, recreational director of the Belmont community center. He takes on more than an ordinary share of teaching responsibility.

When he referees games between Belmont basketball teams, and directs other games, his firm belief in fair play is demonstrated to his young charges. He teaches the broader lessons of life, inculcating the ideas that each individual must have consideration, that work as well as play must be shared, and that the rights of others must be respected.

His followers try hard to follow in the steps he traces for them. They learn to share fun, to get along with others. These experiences in democratic living have taught them invaluable lessons.

"The children learn lessons in school, but they must also learn to play," Dill explains. "The same sort of discipline is not used in both instances. In play, the teacher must be a special friend—a fellow playmate."

Children of all ages gather at the Belmont community center. They know that their instructor is a man of genuine qualities who understands their interests, who has the touch of a great teacher, for he is at heart one of them.

ADVICE—Chester Dill, right, talks to George Rolofson, 12, who lives on route 5 near Belmont.

HOSPITAL MENUS

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I feel that your reporter unwittingly made a mistake in his story relating to the Lincoln State Hospital (Lincoln Star, February 14). He said, "Hash is common on the menu." Actually, in planning the meals for the patients at the Lincoln State Hospital, we never serve hash, but whole meats, roast beef, pork, ham, and occasionally dishes with ground meat—all very nutritious. We strive constantly to provide variety to the meals not only when it comes to the meat courses but to the desserts, and in all other particulars.

To the editor of the Lincoln Star: We have been reading the Lincoln Star for over 40 years, and have also been residents during that same time. Would like to offer the following, "as we see it":
There are more than 400 in the house and one-half off to be kicked right out.

But there is another ninety-six who've got into quite a fix. There's Robert, there's Robert, Joseph, too.

After Old Harry to guide them through. But let's go back to 728.
Didn't he start us on a terrible time? We had voted him in and voted him out. And now that's what his grouch is all about.

ASSISTANT HAND-FOLDERS

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Senator Cramer and his spenders pushed through the bill to raise salaries of some state employees, some in considerable amount. What for? Folding their hands at the expense of the taxpayers. To make it complete, he and his committee should introduce a bill for a deputy for each officer—a deputy hand-folder for each officer. Then there would be one more hand-folder to visit with the original. They could be company for each other. The vote showed four dissents. I want to congratulate them for that vote. Apparently they realize we are in an emergency. As proposed now, an earning of $2,000 will call for a deduction of $80 from a laborer's yearly earnings.

B. S. KECK

BEAR TRACKS

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of the Lincoln Star: In state assistance matters, the legislature is looking for bear tracks and not the bear. To do the sensible thing, it should do what Colorado has done and get away from its top-heavy administrative load. Under a pension system, all medical and hospital costs rest with the pensioned. Only in cases where the recipient is unable to care for himself does the state become his or her guardian. In administration, only the machinery for investigation or qualifications necessary to come under the act and in keeping records of disbursements and minor matters are necessary. No manual that takes a Philadelphia lawyer to interpret is necessary. No board needed to make its own rules and regulations and become judge and jury in the interpretation is likewise needed. In short, the act is handled with a minimum of administrators, the recipients getting the benefit in increased payments. Once the patient becomes responsible for the costs of hospitalization and medical, there will come a lessening of the ultimate cost of such service. And it seems that is what the legislature is mostly interested in at this time. From the days of Cochran down, no one has tackled the problem to the end of better providing for the aged. Rather has it been to lessen that which they already had. If the administrative force is top-heavy, the legislature has been making it that way. Witness the creation of a committee of five to be advisers to the state board of control, who advise the state director, who advises the county director and he, the county "visitor."

MISSING

Six weeks ago they all were here. But now I look for them in vain. Those wondrous "friends of once a year" have disappeared again. Like Arabs in the night, I'd say. They silently have slipped away. But sadly let it be confessed. Among the missing there is one—The man I am when at my best. Mysteriously has gone. But he'll be back, should he remain on earth, when Christmas comes again. (Copyright, 1951, Edgar A. Guest)

U.N. Urged To Regulate Atom, Arms

... Lie Makes Plea

LAKE SUCCESS—(AP)—Secretary-general Trygve Lie called on the United Nations Wednesday to keep on working for prohibition of atomic weapons and regulation of armaments in spite of world tension. He said efforts at political settlement and the regulation of armaments should go hand in hand.

"In the present state of tension in the world, with rearmament proceeding at a rapid pace of all sides, it may seem academic and even utopian to proceed with serious discussion and planning on the regulation and reduction of armaments," Lie said. "I do not agree with this view. I believe the work of this committee should be looked upon as one of the vital undertakings of the United Nations."

Lie spoke at the opening meeting of a 12-member United Nations committee set up by the general assembly last Dec. 13 to study ways of merging the work of the atomic energy committee and the commission for conventional armaments.

The new committee became embroiled in a wrangle over Chinese representation and did not get so far as to decide on a chairman Wednesday. It is expected to meet again in about a week.

Rep. Rankin Wants Fewer Foreigners In Plaques Group

WASHINGTON—(INS)—Representative Rankin (D-Miss.) charged Wednesday that the new house plaques of historic world figures are designed to "wipe out everything American" and proposed that they be replaced with the images of great Americans.

Rankin insisted that the 22 sculptures of such famous lawgivers as Solon, Pope Innocent III, Moses, Edward I, Grotius, Napoleon and Jefferson are nothing more than "ancient caricatures."

He introduced a resolution to replace the bas-reliefs above the gallery doors with likenesses of Benjamin Franklin and other distinguished Americans.

Little Jacquelyn Marre Gets 216,000 Valentines

ATLANTA—(AP)—Jacquelyn Marre wanted to be a Valentine—and she is, even to the postal workers who have brought her 216,000 pieces of mail in the past three days.

The cancer stricken little 12-year-old has received more mail in a brief period than any other Atlanta, even the late Margaret Mitchell, author of "Gone With the Wind."

This Valentine's day was much happier for Jacquelyn than her last. Then she had just undergone the second of three major brain operations and doctors told her parents the cancer was incurable.

That was when her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Marre, took her out of the hos-

Fellowship of The Saints: ...A Lenten Series On Great Leaders

By Thomas S. Kepler

Article 8,
BENEDICT OF NURSIA
(480-543?)

Near Dubuque, Iowa, among the hills along the Mississippi river is a Trappist monastery where sixty-four monks reside.

Sixty-one of them have taken the vow of silence.

Were you to be there at two o'clock some morning you would see these monks quietly file into a chapel for mass; before the day had ended they would spend eight hours attending mass. When they work in the fields during the day, they say nothing verbally to each other. Through this monastic kind of living they hope to achieve not only salvation for themselves, but also to store up salvation for their fellowmen. This order originated in the Abbey of La Trappe in the seventeenth century.

The monastic movement arose and developed with men like Jerome, Bernard of Clairvaux, and Benedict who felt the difficulty of "being Christian in an unchristian society," especially after Constantine gave sanction to the church at the beginning of the fourth century. As the church began to reform the Roman empire with Christianity, the pagan values of the empire began to filter back into the church. Hence the monasteries developed as places where Christian values could be lived without the influence of the pagan values of the world. Many Christians sought the monasteries as places for "saving themselves from the world." But after a time monasteries began to degenerate. Benedict of Nursia arose as the great reformer of monastic life.

Born of a good family in the Umbrian village of Nursia and educated at Rome, Benedict grew disgusted with the evils of the city and sought the life of a hermit in a cave of the mountains at Subiaco, forty miles from Rome. Here for three years he lived a life of prayer and discipline, his place of refuge known only by a monk Romulus. Reports of his piety spread, and he became head of a monastic group. About 529 he founded a new monastery on the hill of Monte Cassino, halfway between Rome and Naples, and remained there until his death. This place became the ideal pattern for monastic life, with its regulation laid down in the "Rule," composed by Benedict soon after its establishment.

As compared with some monastic orders, Benedict's rules seem fairly lenient. Benedict viewed a monastery as a permanent, self-supporting garrison of Christ's soldiers, where absolute obedience, simplicity of living, and constant occupation prevail. His monks had sufficient sleep (about eight hours a night), good food, proper clothes. The monks arose between 1:30 and 3:00 a.m.; they refrained from flesh meat, and fasted until noon or 3:00 p.m. each day; four or five hours a day were spent in religious exercises; six hours were given to work; four hours were devoted to reading.

In the "prologue" to the "Rules" Benedict says: "As we advance in the religious life and faith, we shall run the way of God's commandments with expanded hearts and unspeakable sweetness of love; so that never departing from His guidance and persevering in the monastery in His doctrine until death, we may by patience share in the sufferings of Christ, and be found worthy to be coheirs with Him of His kingdom."

While most of us are unable to flee to a Trappist or a Benedictine monastery, we are nevertheless convinced that we must have a "rule" for our living in the world. Without discipline, our days and years count for little. Of all designs given for the modern day, Richard C. Cabot in 1914 laid down one of the best in his book, "What Men Live By." In this volume, which went through 33 printings in the first decade of its publication, Dr. Cabot gives a fourfold "rule," to work, play, love, and worship.

The way we are able to have a balanced discipline of work, play, love, and worship will determine the joy and purpose of our lives. At the center of these four disciplines, worship is tremendously important. In worship man tries to determine how best he can really work, play, and love; he also places himself in such a position that God's energy, wisdom, and love can supplement his human frailty.

In worship the thoughtful person, concerned with a disciplined life, asks with a French poet: "What you haven't any star—and you're going on the sea?" You're going on a trip without a book? What you have no love and yet you talk of living?

As Benedict's "Rule" played an important role in giving a proper balance to life in the monastery, so Dr. Cabot's "rule" of work, play, love, and worship will prove a worthy guide for us who live with the disciplined life in the world.

Standard Renames Officers

Premium Reserve Goal Reached In '50

Officials of the Standard Reliance Insurance company announced Wednesday that a goal of 100 per cent unearned premium reserve had been reached during 1950. The required reserve for legal reserve mutual companies operating in Nebraska is 46 per cent.

The announcement was made at the annual stockholders meeting at the Cornhusker hotel.

Increases Reported

It was also reported that assets increased 22.8 per cent over 1949. A substantial increase was made in surplus to the policyholders. Premium writings for the year increased 13.2 per cent.

Re-elected to the board of directors for three-year terms were: H. W. Holtgrewe, W. C. Farmer, W. M. Stoner, Victor E. Anderson, and E. F. Witt.

Charles T. Stuart was elected to the board to fill the unexpired term of Woodrow Magee.

Re-elected company officers are:

R. D. Latsch, chairman of the board; O. D. Trombley, president and secretary; W. C. Farmer, vice president and treasurer; K. J. Folds, vice president; H. E. Mann and C. N. Chadwick, assistant secretary and auditor, and Dora Witte, cashier.

Charles Stuart Is Elected To Board

Charles T. Stuart was elected to the board of directors of the Standard Casualty company Wednesday at the third annual stockholders meeting at the Cornhusker hotel.

Re-elected to the board for three-year terms were: R. D. Latsch, K. J. Folds, H. E. Mann and C. N. Chadwick.

Officers re-elected for 1951 are: R. D. Latsch, chairman of the board; O. D. Trombley, president; W. M. Stoner, vice president; K. J. Folds, vice president; W. C. Farmer, secretary; W. W. Purvey, treasurer; H. E. Mann, auditor, and Dora Witte, cashier.

Officials reported a 14.8 per cent increase in company assets for 1950. Premium writings in automobile and general liability lines showed a 43.4 per cent increase on a gross basis.

Adequate reserves for all liability and liabilities, and an increase in surplus to policyholders over 1949 were also reported.

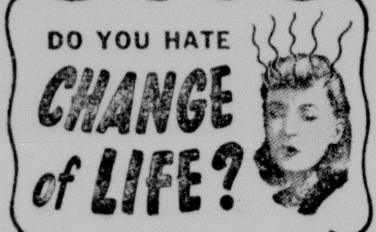

Officials said there were no immediate plans for expansion in view of the increase in business offered the company by its agencies.

More than 60 stockholders attended the meeting.

With Little Worry

Eat, talk, laugh or sneeze without fear of insecure false teeth dropping, slipping or wobbling. FASTEETH holds plates firmer and more comfortably. This pleasant feeling doesn't cause nausea, it's alkaline (non-acid). Checks "plate odor" (mouth breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Do you suffer from hot flushes, nervous tension, upset emotions—due to functional "change of life" (38 to 52 years)—that period when fertility ebbs away, when symptoms of this nature may often betray your age?

Start taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. No other medicine of this type for women has such a long record of success. Taken regularly, Pinkham's Compound helps build up resistance against such middle-age distress. A great medicine made especially for women. The woman's friend! NOTE: Or you may prefer Lydia E. Sleeps Like a Log!

BY CORRECTING LACK OF VITAMINS B₁, B₆, IRON AND NIACIN

Insomnia from upset stomach, aches and pains, due to a deficiency of Vitamins B₁, B₆, Iron and Niacin, is no fun. It drags you down, wears you out, leaves you peevish and out of energy. But Henry Duke, Route 1, Diamond, Missouri, as so many thousands suffering from such deficiencies, has found the answer in today's great HADACOL.

He writes: "Will recommend your HADACOL. I have used it for some time. Guess I have taken 12 bottles or more and it's great. I couldn't eat or sleep. So, now, I eat plenty and sleep like a log. I really think it's wonderful. I buy a bottle every week. But, I won't be without it. It has helped me all over, and I do praise it. I work at the marble and rock quarry and since I have been taking HADACOL I feel more like working. My age is 56. I would like for everyone to know what HADACOL is, and how it helps people who take it."

Idaho Town Terrorized By Rifleman

..Slain After Killing One

WALLACE, Ida. — (AP)—A frenzied prowler terrorized Main street here for almost five hours Wednesday with rifle fire that killed one man and wounded two others.

Police machine gun bullets and tear gas bombs finally silenced him.

Wallace Police Chief Mace McCoy said the man, firing from a hardware store, killed Gordon Hailstone, 33, a miner. Another miner, Willie Maitland, 49, was wounded.

When the shooting stopped, officers entered the store and found the man overcome by tear gas. He made a sudden move and police fired. He died an hour later. Papers on his body carried the name of John Stoddard, 48, and indicated he once lived in Oakland, Calif.

Officers found a 30-06 rifle on the floor beside the man. McCoy said the man may have started shooting when he was startled in a robbery attempt.

Police Here Want Denver Suspect

Lincoln police were negotiating Thursday by telegraph for the return of an 18-year-old youth arrested in Denver recently. He is wanted here on suspicion of burglary.

Inspector Eugene H. Masters said Wednesday that Denver authorities informed him that they had the Lincoln boy in custody. Masters said that on January 26 of the back door of a Lincoln residence by its occupant, who was returning home. A watch was placed on the wanted man's car, but he never returned for it.

The National League hasn't always been an eight club circuit. Once it was reduced to six clubs and that happened in its second year of existence. From 1892 to 1899 it was a 12 club league.

Famed Philosopher Has 'No Faith At All' In U.N.

BY GEORGE PALMER

ROME—George Santayana, world-famous poet and philosopher, believes that with more intelligent leadership, the United Nations could have been built into the most powerful force in the world—an overwhelming strength far greater than Russia's.

"But," the 87-year-old author said in an interview with The Associated Press, "such leadership was not provided, and so I have no faith in the United Nations at all."

Furthermore, he believes the world has no great leaders today. When asked to name one, the Madrid-born, former Harvard professor, merely smiled and said:

"They certainly don't know how to lead. But a leader is one who is followed."

Churchill? No
In talking with him you are aware that, for him, both Alexander and Napoleon were great leaders. Roosevelt and Churchill? No.

Santayana, his eyesight failing, his hearing almost gone, is living out his old age at peace with himself and the world in a picturesque convent-rest-home on a hill near the ancient Colosseum.

He lives in one small room amid his books and papers. But he is far from lonely or sad. His sense of humor is as sharp as ever, he is always smiling, and he still accompanies his own little jokes with a hearty chuckle and twinkle in his twinkling eyes.

"You ask whether he is happy and you find that although he is, he prefers another word. I live alone, but I have everything I need. In solitude I'm in my natural state."

Open House Daily
Looked after by the nuns of the convent, the aged philosopher greets visitors almost daily. It's a sort of "open house" from 4 to 6 p.m., and Santayana does practically all the talking.

He looks at you from across his tiny end-table and tightens his heavy gray bathrobe across his chest.

Does he believe in universal government?

"Universal government could be just if it dealt only in economic affairs... not in cultural matters. That is where Russia errs in handling of her satellites... by imposing the Marxist philosophy."

"No... there must be an overall force of peace to guide any universal state... a state in which there would be smaller states. Such a peaceful force would be vital... Alexander the Great would have been a perfect person for a universal state. He had no prejudices."

"There are two orders in the world... the generative order, of things as they are, and the militant order, of things being twisted by others. Me? I'm a materialist... I believe that the only authority in the world is the authority of things."

"The Star Spangled Banner" was officially made the National Anthem by Congress in 1931, although already adopted as such by the army and navy.

Elgin Seeks Probe Of Import Duties

Elgin National Watch company has joined in seeking an investigation of rates of duty on imported watches, E. G. Jurs, manager of the Lincoln plant said.

Elgin and Hamilton Watch company, of Lancaster, Pa., have filed an application for investigation with the U.S. tariff commissioner.

The so-called "escape clause" which was incorporated into the U.S.-Swiss trade agreement last Oct. 24, for the first time made it possible for the American industry to appeal to the tariff commission for relief.

Jurs pointed out that, under existing duties, Swiss-made movements can be laid down in this country for less than American manufacturers can produce comparable movements. He said the American industry is seeking "equality of movement cost" at the border of the U.S., and added that favorable consideration of the application would "encourage Elgin to expand its manufacturing operation."

Boy Scouts 'Fascists'

BUDAPEST —(AP)—A reader complained in a letter published in a newspaper here that "enemies of the people's democracy" are wearing badges of "ill-famed foreign fascist organizations" to demonstrate against "our people's republic." The letter singled out youths who have been wearing "reactionary" Boy Scout badges in Hungary.

Auditor's Report Brings Thanks From Gustavson

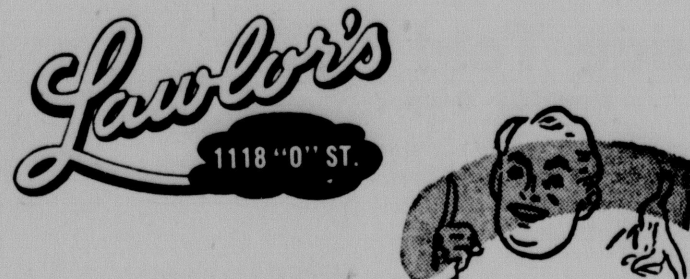

Chancellor R. G. Gustavson has acknowledged with thanks an official audit report from State Auditor Ray O. Johnson who declared University of Nebraska accounts in good order.

"The university has been making a sincere effort to modernize our accounting procedures," he wrote to Johnson. "Your report is an indication that we have made considerable progress."

"I am grateful to you and to the members of your staff for your willingness to devote the time necessary to audit all university accounts thoroughly. I am particularly pleased that we have been able to work out a schedule whereby your examiners not only visit the university for the 90-day period required for the official audit, but also are able to examine our accounts with regularity throughout the year. Your suggestions for improving our accounting system have been of practical help."

Burma Plans Rebel Curb

RANGOON — (AP) — The Burmese government will impose a system of collective punishment upon specific North Burma areas to discourage support to rebels, says a Mandalay report. The scheme will begin in areas whose inhabitants have withheld information regarding rebels destroying communications and otherwise engaged in anti-government operations.

Car Tax Proposal Advances

State Would Control Under Code Change

A bill to put a proposed constitutional change—which would permit the legislature to regulate the taxing of motor vehicles—to a vote was approved by the legislature's government committee Wednesday afternoon.

State Auditor Ray Johnson said at the LB 120 hearing that Nebraska loses $300,000 a year under the present arrangement, and it is possible to go 21 months without paying any taxes if a car is purchased just after the March assessment date.

He also pointed out that because of the difference in local tax rates, identical cars are taxed $91 in one Custer county district, and only $15 in Banner county.

The agriculture committee reported out a bill to keep deer hunters from obtaining permits two years in succession, and another extending the hunting area and permitting shooting of does as well as bucks. The bill also provides for killing great horned owls.

The committee also voted to introduce a bill enabling Alliance to take advantage of the federal housing act. It would make the city council a housing authority, under federal regulations, so the city could take over a war-time project that otherwise would be dismantled.

The miscellaneous claims committee held a bill to appropriate $20,000 a year to aid Pershing school at Omaha.

Other committee action Wednesday:

Agriculture—Reported out LB 260, relating to weed eradication.

Government—Reported out LB 181, authorizing the chief steward in an institution under the board of control to make emergency purchases of supplies.

Reported out LB 182, repealing section relating to bookkeeper at girls' training school.

Reported out LB 177, providing for appointment by board of control of a chief executive officer at each institution, and a deputy, a steward and, where needed, a matron.

Judiciary—Killed LB 141, relating to instructions in motions for new trial.

Reported out LB 142, relating to decedent's estate and for allowances for surviving spouse.

Reported out LB 143, providing procedure for assessment and determination of inheritance tax for county court.

Reported out LB 144, authorizing the entry of summary judgment by a district court.

Reported out LB 147, authorizing the county court upon citation of any person claiming to be in wrongful possession of property of a decedent to require such person to bring with him any deeds, conveyances, bonds, contracts, wills or other writings of the decedent in his possession.

Claims committed to LB 225, including immediate past commander of recognized veterans on board of inquiry and review for soldiers' and sailors' home.

Navajos To Receive Tape Recording Set

(Special To The Star) HASTINGS, Neb.—The Westminister fellowship at Hastings college has pledged itself to buy a $200 tape recorder for the Navajo Indian mission in Yuba City, Ariz., according to Helen Horr, moderator of the group.

Members of the organization, which is affiliated with the Presbyterian church, will work at spare-time jobs and donate money earned this way to the fund for the recorder.

Appeal Hearing Set Four Zone Permits

Four special zoning permit applications will be considered by the city zoning board of appeals at its meeting Thursday morning at the city hall.

The permits, none of them seeking a zoning change, are:

Ada Meeker, 4109 South Forty-ninth, application for a permit to operate a nursing and boarding home at that address.

Mrs. Herman Paul, 2314 Randolph, application for a permit to operate a child care center at her home.

Genevieve Becker, 3227 St. Paul, application to operate a nursing and boarding home at 6917 Starr.

Paul C. Eden, 2745 South Forty-eighth, application for a permit to erect a shelter house to facilitate the selling of seasonal fruits and vegetables at 2601 South Forty-eighth.

The New York Yankees of 1922 and 1949 won the American League pennant by only one game.

—Rukeyser— Opportunity For Retired Executives

Nation Suffers Loss Of Needed Know-How

BY MERRYLE STANLEY
RUKEYSER

International News Service

The manpower shortage, growing out of the Korean war and stepped up military mobilization, will doubtless for the short term reverse the national trend of waste resulting from premature and automatic retirement of physically and mentally fit older persons.

When during World War II, the president and chairman of General Electric company were on leave of absence to fill governmental posts, the corporation recalled two retired executives, Gerard Swope and Owen D. Young. The additional competent service rendered by these over-aged executives demonstrated that automatic retirement is sometimes premature.

As the population changes in composition with relatively larger ratios of the totals in the older groups, premature retirement on pensions which lean on the public credit can become a regressive national influence.

In addition, consideration must be given to the psychological and physical effects on the men who are sidetracked without new interests.

The late Orlando F. Weber retired voluntarily at a comparatively early age from the chief executive post in Allied Chemical & Dye corporation. He knew what he was doing, and was not flabbergasted by the behavior of associates and former subordinates who clearly showed by their attitudes that "the king is dead; long live the king."

He was prepared for the ordeal of being deflated from being a V.I.P. (Very Important Person), and he welcomed the leisure in order to concentrate on a new career in economic research. He laid the basis for a genuinely new economics based on an understanding of the realities as recorded in double entry book-keeping.

When automatic rules forced premature and sometimes involuntary retirement, the remedy is in a second career.

Dr. Paul M. Pitman, president of the College of Idaho at Caldwell, Idaho, is looking for such persons, if they are in the higher brackets of excellence, as potential faculty members.

I recently met a distinguished former attorney from Cleveland who retired on his own initiative, and moved to Macon, Ga., where he voluntarily started a new career as a professor of law at a dollar a year.

Men, rich in experience and judgment, also find opportunities in the evening of their careers as consultants.

Where some earning power continues after 65, the standard of living need not be limited by the size of the retirement income, which is frequently inadequate, especially in view of the current inflation.

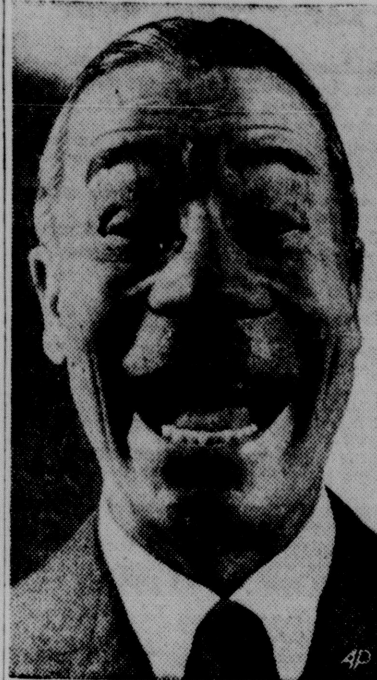

This column has alluded to this subject on numerous occasions in the last few years of the "pension craze."

It is noteworthy that the matter is now receiving academic attention.

Thus, Sumner H. Schlichter, Harvard economic savant, in a recent study, pointed out:

"The loss of production from premature retirements has become one of the principal wastes in the economy. It is conservative to estimate that the labor force is nearly 1.5 million smaller than it would be if the workers rather than the employers usually determined the time of retirement and that the loss of output from premature retirements is over $5 billion a year."

"Indeed, the loss of production from premature retirements is undoubtedly far greater than the loss from all the featherbedding rules of all the unions of JOY SCOUT—"There are plenty of reasons to be grumpy if you want to be grumpy," says Actor Joe E. Brown, So. as chairman of the National Smile Week committee. Brown advises a broad smile because "it is much more fun to operate in an atmosphere of happiness." Everybody who smiles between Feb. 26 and March 3 will become a Joy Scout, it says here.

Probation Given On Bad Check Charge

Joan Lundy, 21 828 South Twelfth, mother of three children, was placed on probation for two years by District Judge Harry R. Ankeny Wednesday.

She pleaded guilty several days ago to issuing a $30 check with intent to defraud. According to the investigation report, she issued several other bad checks.

The defendant had worked as a waitress. Her husband is confined in the state reformatory, officials said. Their three children have been adopted by a relative in California.

Quads Born In Africa

LONDON — (INS) — A Reuters dispatch from California in South Africa's Cape province said Tuesday night that Mrs. P. J. Lombard, wife of a sheep herder, has given birth to quadruplets. The babies were reported well and healthy.

the country. It is ironic that the problem of premature retirements has been aggravated by the spread of pension plans.

"The great majority of those who retire of their own volition do so because of ill health. It is scarcely conceivable that pensions will be made so large relative to earnings that employees will be willing to retire at about the same ages that employers would like to retire them."

"The explanation is simple. The sense of participation in the affairs of the town (or the world) that men derive from working more than offsets the leisure and freedom that they gain from retirement. This is true more than ever in this age of the five-day week, the eight-hour day, paid holidays, and paid vacations. Employment carries with it so much opportunity for leisure that the leisure of retirement loses much of its attractiveness."

People Start Off To Seoul ... Despite Battles

By YOUNG H. LEE

PUSAN, Korea—(INS) — Korean refugees, estimated to number as many as 1,000,000, have left Pusan for the long trip north despite repeated government warnings that a return to the Seoul area is still premature.

Hundreds of thousands of the refugees are crammed into squalid and inadequate camps in south-eastern Korea. Tuesday a South Korean national assemblyman said the total number of refugees who have starved to death exceeds the total enemy-inflicted casualties among the country's soldiers.

More than 2,000 South Koreans left Pusan Tuesday for Seoul to establish essential government and municipal services. Seventeen former Seoul city officials are scheduled to follow. They will try to aid the mass of refugees expected to pour in.

The South Korean government action was ordered despite the fact United Nations forces have not yet taken Seoul from communist forces entrenched along the north bank of the Han River and supported by tanks self-propelled guns and artillery.

FLOODS IN WASHINGTON—Army ducks roving flooded areas in the Kent Valley of western Washington rendering aid to stranded residents. Found one person who knew how to take a flood in stride. Dean Ross (above), discovered poling his light raft in the swollen waters, told his would-be rescuers he was in no danger and was "having fun." (International Soundphoto.)

Scientist Believes Dinosaurs Were Plagued With Arthritis

BY FRANK CAREY

CHICAGO—Dinosaurs, the big shots of the reptilian era millions of years ago, apparently suffered from arthritis in their old age.

Dr. T. Dale Stewart says the Smithsonian institution has a dinosaur whose skeleton shows bone defects strikingly similar to those observed in humans known to be suffering from a "degenerative arthritis" sometimes accompanying old age.

This type of arthritis—believed to be due in most cases just to the wear and tear of living—limits the activities of its victims and usually causes pain.

It's distinguished from the much more crippling and deforming type of arthritis, called "rheumatoid," which usually occurs among people under 40.

Dr. Stewart said the roughening of the joints seen in the Smithsonian's monstrous dinosaur—measuring some 75 feet from nose to tail tip—presumably would have caused the beast to take many a day off to rest up from his pain.

The scientist cited the dinosaur case as further evidence in support of a current study indicating that prehistoric men and animals suffered from much the same bone diseases and deformities that affect modern man and beast.

Atkinson, Spencer Youths Win Contest

BASSETT, Neb.—Benton Mellor, 18, Atkinson, and Shirley Hargens, 16, Spencer were winners of the district 4-H timely topic public speaking contest here Wednesday.

Mellor is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Mellor. He spoke on "Our Constitution is Worth Having and Worth Defending." Miss Hargens spoke on "Sportsmanship." She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Hargens. Eight boys and girls from six counties participated in the contest. Runnersup were Ilow Clow, 14, Burwell, and Rodney Gieraw, 15, Springfield.

Beaten Baby Dies; Young Mother Held

SANTA ANA, Calif.—(INS)—Mrs. Cordelia Esther Barnham Green, 23, Tuesday was jailed for the fatal beating of her 4-month-old daughter. The young mother told police "the baby did something to me—it just drove me into a rage." Hospital attendants said the infant died of head injuries.

Acheson Calls For Red Revolt

Foreign Communists Outside Russia Urged To Follow Italy's Lead

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson Wednesday called for an international revolt of communist parties against the domination of Moscow.

He advised all foreign communists who have the interest of their country at heart to follow the example of a group of Italians and break away from the Kremlin's control.

And, at his news conference, the secretary of state renewed a warning that any communist attack of Yugoslavia might strain the fabric of world peace to the breaking point. Yugoslavia already has declared its independence of the Soviet Union.

Italy Encouraging.

Acheson said recent developments in Italy, where a number of communist leaders have decided to put their country ahead of their party, are encouraging.

On other foreign policy developments, Acheson:

- 1. Discussed the idea that the western powers are discussing a serious proposal for unifying and neutralizing Germany.
- 2. Said the administration is going forward with preparations to submit to congress its proposal for ending the state of war with Germany.
- 3. Endorsed the general purpose of the McMahon resolution in congress to assure the Russian people of American friendliness. Acheson commented that the difficulty in the Soviet government will not let this attitude be known to its own people.

Flight To Denver May Save Life Of New-Born Baby

DENVER—(AP)—A five-day old Minuteman, Neb., boy is near death in Children's hospital after an emergency flight to Denver for a critical operation.

The baby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Drieth, was flown here by Everett L. Haxby and Jane Morrison. Miss Morrison administered oxygen on the flight from Scottsbluff, Neb., and the plane was met at Stapleton field by Denver firemen who used a resuscitator to keep the baby breathing until an ambulance arrived.

Doctors operated to join the esophagus to make a connection between the mouth and stomach. They said the congenital condition was not uncommon. They described the child's condition as "fair" but said his life still is in doubt.

House Joins Great Debate Over Policy

Smith Says Truman 'Conjuring Up War'

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The house jumped into the debate on foreign policy Wednesday, with Rep. Laurence H. Smith (R-Wis.) accusing the Truman administration of "conjuring up another war."

The attack came with introduction of a "declaration of policy" backed by a large group of house republicans. It demanded full partnership for congress in a complete overhaul of U.S. foreign policy. Present policy, it claimed, "in large part has been a costly failure."

Senate Gets Set

And in the senate, the combined foreign relations and armed services committees squared off in a battle starting Thursday on the question of committing more American ground forces to the western European defense army to be set up under Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The main features of the policy substitute proposed in the house would be concentration on home and hemisphere defense, and withholding of any aid to western Europe until America is convinced the nations there are doing their full share in raising barriers against communist aggression.

Rep. Smith's attack on the administration drew a sharp rejoinder from Rep. McCormack. Referring to recent senate debate on foreign policy, McCormack said the "sad thing" about much of the criticism is that it comes from "some men with presidential ambitions who have jealousy toward such as Gen. Eisenhower."

Newsprint Tieup Gets 'Desperate'

MONTREAL — (AP) — Three major newsprint mills said Wednesday they may have to close shop within the next 24 hours because they are being "strangled" by a boxcar shortage.

The companies—Consolidated Paper Corp., Ltd., Price Brothers and Co., Ltd., and St. Lawrence Paper Mills Co., Ltd.—said they had more than 20,000 tons of newsprint "overflowing warehouses" in the northern Quebec Lake St. John district.

An official of Consolidated described the situation as "desperate."

The spokesmen blamed the lack of cars on the recent United States railway strike and the fact that the Lake St. John district was not on the mainline of the Canadian National railways—the only system operating in the area.

He said with no shipping on the frozen St. Lawrence river and district highways snowbound the mills are "at the mercy of the railway."

John Bull's Wife Shies At Reindeer

LONDON—(AP)—Unrattled reindeer went on sale for the first time in meat-shy London Wednesday, but housewives were doubtful about its taste and shocked at its price.

A small consignment of Swedish reindeer carcasses reached distributors during the past few days.

Retail prices ranged from 1 shilling 6 pence (21 cents) for the cheapest cuts to 4 shillings 6 pence (63 cents) a pound.

because they fear he might be nominated by the republican convention as a candidate for president in 1952.

THAWED OUT and apparently on the way to recovery, Mrs. Mae Stevens, 23, continues to be a medical wonder to physicians at the Michael Reese hospital in Chicago. When the woman was found in an alley virtually "frozen stiff," her body temperature was down to 64 degrees. Doctors say they know of no other human being surviving after body temperature had dropped below 68 degrees. (International Soundphoto)

Two Year Sentence On Check Charge

Donald R. Harshbarger, 23, Lincoln, was sentenced to two years in the state penitentiary Wednesday by District Judge Harry R. Ankeny.

Harshbarger previously pleaded guilty to issuing a $795 check with intent to defraud. The check was used to buy a car.

He was picked up in New Mexico, Harshbarger, the father of three children, admitted passing several other bad checks here last December, officers said.

He has served terms in Nebraska and Texas.

Poll Shows Students Favor UMT

Universal military training is favored by slightly over three-fourths of the 1,576 University of Nebraska students polled on the subject during second semester registration.

Most of those who gave UMT their approval want a training period of 12 to 21 months after completion of high school or upon reaching the age of 18. The 12 month training time was most popular with 46 percent of the men and 63 percent of the women students. A 21 month period was preferred by 45 percent of the men but only 14 percent of the women. The total number of students polled constitutes about one-fourth of the university enrollment.

All of the schools in the Big Seven are conducting similar polls as a result of action taken at the annual convention of Big Seven student government associations in Norman, Okl., last December. The Nebraska poll was conducted by the Student Council student governing body.

Pardon Saves Man From Russia

'Rather Be Dead Than Go Back'

Board Is Told By Wisconsin Man

A 49-year-old Wisconsin man considers it a "death sentence" to be deported to Russia.

That was the comment Wednesday of Jacob Bretthauer, Milwaukee, who was granted a full pardon by the state pardon board to avoid deportation as an alien.

Bretthauer served a three year reformatory sentence from Scottsbluff county for forgery. He was discharged in 1932.

"I'd rather be dead than go back to Russia," said Bretthauer. It was apparent that the Wisconsinite was serious. His lips quivered slightly as he spoke.

Brothers Paroled

The board also granted paroles to two brothers, Donald and Edward Winkenwerder of Hershey, serving two to three year sentences in the reformatory for hog stealing. They were sentenced from Lincoln county.

Board members agreed that the case of the two brothers was unusual in that none of the usual motives was apparently behind the crime.

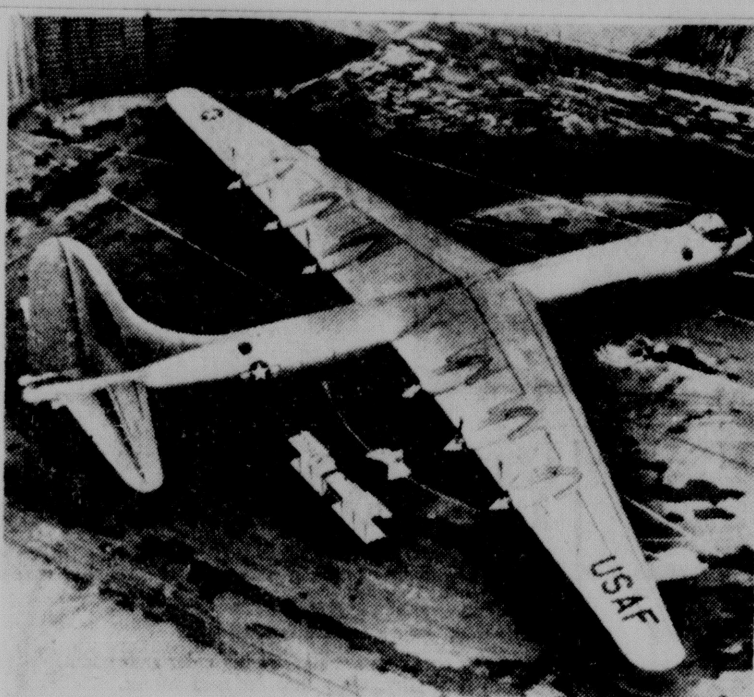

Drinking, gambling or women weren't involved, commented one board member. Edward said he thought it was an "easy way to get some money" when asked why he violated the law.

Action of the board in full:

Penitentiary:
Edward G. Nelson, 55, Omaha, uttering forged instrument, Douglas, five years, 1947. Commuted and discharged.
George Blackstone, 22, Omaha, larceny from person, Douglas, two, 1950, commuted and paroled.

Reformatory:
William Burk, 20, Plattsmouth, breaking and entering, Cass, 1-1950. Paroled.
J. J. Brooks, 22, Omaha, larceny from person, Douglas, 2-3. Paroled.
Paul J. Snoddy, 28, Topeka, forgery, Lincoln, 1-3-1949. Paroled.

Edward Winkenwerder, 27, Hershey, hog theft, Lincoln, 2-3. Paroled.
Donald Winkenwerder, 28, Hershey, hog theft, Lincoln, 2-3. Paroled.
Jacob Bretthauer, 49, Milwaukee, forgery, Scottsbluff, full pardon.

PUSHER PLANES—Flying machines have grown in 40 years but the pusher-type propulsion is fundamentally the same. The 1912 vintage Curtiss bi-plane, resting beside the giant B-36d, still flies under the power of one little pusher engine. The bomber has six pusher and four jet engines. The planes are at Consolidated-Vultee plant in San Diego. (AP Wirephoto Wednesday Night.)

Fate Of U.N. Force In Korea Pests With Foxholed Infantry

BY DON WHITEHEAD

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The powerful new Chinese offensive in Korea heavily underlines the fact that the life or death of the U. S. Eighth army depends on GI Joe—the infantryman.

In the showdown, it's the bearded, red-eyed, weary man with the rifle or carbine or machinegun—squatting in a hole in the frozen mountains—who has the bloody job of stopping the enemy.

The air force, the artillery and the navy can help. But even in these modern times the infantryman still is the kingpin in the army's defense.

Twice in three months by sheer weight of numbers the Chinese have battered the Eighth army back. Here is how they do it:

The Chinese move for the most part only at night. With expert camouflage and iron discipline, they build up supplies and reinforcements. They come out of day-time hiding for a night attack. They swarm against and into the allied lines in waves.

The artillery cannot shoot effectively because the gunners cannot tell whether they are shelling friend or foe. Our planes cannot fly at night to give the ground troops close support at the critical points—support which normally might turn the tide of battle.

Can the army stand indefinitely against repeated massive Chinese attacks? Some military men believe it can be done. But others think it is inevitable that our army eventually will have to pull out to escape destruction.

Sailor Named Sailors Freed For Sea By Pardon Board

A sailor by the name of Sailors was free to sail once again Thursday after a brief stay in the county jail for sailing forth in the wrong car.

Marvin D. Sailors, 35-year-old Lincolnite, was "laying out" a $100 fine in county jail on a joy-riding charge. He also had received a 90-day jail sentence from Municipal Court Judge Edward Fisher. Sailors was accused of joy-riding in a panel truck belonging to Harry Jespersen on Nov. 14, 1950.

Wednesday the pardon board remitted Sailors' fine and commuted the sentence so Sailors, who recently was recalled by the naval reserves, could report for duty.

Sailors explained that he would be A.W.O.L. if he didn't report for duty by March 1. He was supposed to report for duty Nov. 18 but got an extension after he was convicted of the joy-riding charge.

Governor Peterson, noticing that Sailors had an auto theft record against him, asked if Sailors was cured of this.

Sailors said: "You can't take cars when you're out at sea." Then he gave his promise not to mix with the law again.

$3 a Day Credit
The governor also noted that $3 credit for each day served is all that is given in "laying out" a fine.

Apparently half-joking at first, he asked if that was enough in these inflated times, pointing out that the rule was established some time ago.

Then the governor added that perhaps some thought should be given it.

... But Drouth Eased

(By the Associated Press)

Snow fell on the Texas-Mexican border Wednesday but Washingtonians shed topcoats again in springlike warmth.

The nation's weather map was a hodge-podge of contrasts. A band of snow, sleet and freezing rain stretched 1,200 miles from Texas northeast into New England. It helped break a drouth in the midcontinent winter wheat belt.

Subzero cold numbed parts of Wisconsin, Michigan and Iowa while warm gulf breezes kept the southeast as balmy as a day in May.

Another freeze was forecast for the lower Rio Grande valley where blasts of cold badly damaged crops in December and January.

Elmer R. Adams Of Eagle Dies

Elmer R. Adams, 62, died Wednesday at his home near Eagle, Neb.

Born near Greenwood, Neb., Mr. Adams had lived at Eagle most of his life. He was a member of the Lutheran church.

Mr. Adams is survived by his wife, Cassie; a son, Melvin; a daughter, Mrs. Raymond Manners; a brother, Arthur; and a sister, Mrs. Raymond Norris, all of Eagle; two grandchildren and Lavern Stradley and Clifford Cooper, both of Eagle, who were reared by Mr. and Mrs. Adams.

--Income Primer-- Use Of Care Will Prevent Tax Errors

...Read Instructions

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—If you make your tax return on Long Form 1040, fill it in very carefully one step at a time.

Two classes of taxpayers must file their returns on the long form:

1. Persons with income in 1950 of $5,000 or more.
2. Persons, who regardless of income, want to itemize non-business deductions instead of taking the standard allowance of 10 per cent of income.

Follow Orders.

Before starting to make out your return, write the following information on work sheets in this order:

1. Income in 1950—amount of wages and other income received.
2. Deductible expenses—expenses necessary to your work or business. In case of expenses of your job, divide them into two groups. In the first group put "out-of-town" travel expenses and "reimbursed expenses" if later are reported as part of your income. In the second group put all other job expenses.

3. Deductions—certain kinds of taxes, interest payments, losses (not reimbursed by insurance or otherwise) from theft, storm, fire and other casualties, contributions and medical expenses. You can deduct medical expenses which exceed 5 per cent of your income.

Watch Deductions.

Medical deductions are limited, however, to no more than $1,250 for each exemption claimed. And there's a ceiling of $2,500 for a single person or a married person making a separate return and $5,000 for a married couple making a joint return.

Deductions for contributions to charitable organizations and the like may not exceed 15 per cent of your income.

These deductions are listed on Page 3, Form 1040. If you decide to take the standard 10 per cent allowance for non-business deductions you don't list them.

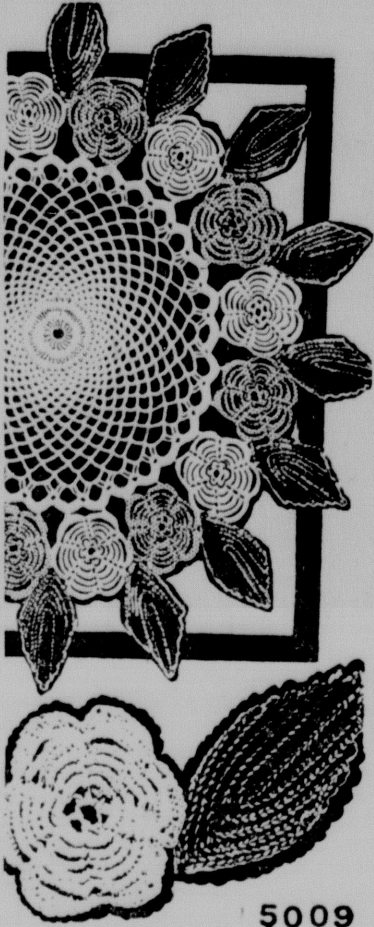

4. Income tax already paid—amount of tax withheld from your 1950 wages and amount paid in accordance with tax estimates made during the past year.

Get Instructions

Read carefully the government's pamphlet of instructions on "How to Prepare Your Income Tax Return." If you didn't receive this pamphlet and Form 1040, you can obtain them at a collector's office or at a post office or bank, or possibly from your employer.

For most married couples using long Form 1040 the tax on a joint return will be smaller or as small as on a separate return. A one-income couple can't lose by using the joint return.

If you are a two-income couple and have exceptional investment losses or deductions for medical

Vandenberg Says Russia Could Break Air Defense

WASHINGTON—(P)—Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, chief of the air force, believes Russia could push at least 70 out of 100 bombers through to United States targets in a determined attack.

Vandenberg said in a signed article in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post that Russia "has been working intensively on a heavy bomber to match the B-36" and "she unquestionably will build it."

Analyzing the Soviet striking power and America's air defenses, Vandenberg said Russia "now has at least 450 planes that can strike our major population and industrial centers from bases in the U.S.S.R." (A reference to Russian copies of the B-29).

He expressed his belief that no conceivable defense could fully stop a determined bombing attack.

"Should war come," Vandenberg said, "we can be expected to destroy no more than 30 per cent of the planes making an attack in strength on the United States before bombing missions are completed. And our preparations today are not beefed up to achieve even that figure."

Defensive planning also has given closest attention to the possibility that Russia will refuel its bombers in flight over the Arctic wastes to enable them to make a round trip, he added.

Vandenberg said a large scale raid probably would include only a few planes carrying the A-bomb.

Employees Division Lists Workers

Herbert C. Henderson, division general of the Red Cross campaign, announced that 95 more workers have been named in the employees' classified division.

The 1951 Lancaster county campaign will be held in March.

Henderson will be assisted by four lieutenant generals: John F. Pavich for industrial group; Nate C. Holman, jr., for the business and professional group; Clyde Underwood for the wholesale and retail commodities group; and Harold Read for the public departments and suburbs group.

These men have in turn enlisted the services of the following colonels and lieutenant colonels:

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

2 We can use more immigrants like the woman who came in with a million dollars worth of diamonds in her shoes, but they shouldn't be so quiet about it.

Sometimes we get the impression all our wealth is being shipped out of the country and here are these lovely smugglers bringing us diamonds!

But this is the first woman I ever heard of who could crowd any more than her feet into her shoes.

I heard that when she bought them the clerk said, "Do they pinch you anywhere?" she said, "Not yet... but they may in New York."

She came from one of the bustling countries of Europe... She and another immigrant had only two million dollars in diamonds between them.

And you know how little that will buy at the meat market these days.

But in time we hope to build up the prosperity of Europe to the point where her citizens won't have to apologize for having so little on them when picked up.

Russians In Uniform Figured At 4 Million

... 11 Pact Countries Have 4.5 Million

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The senate foreign relations committee said Wednesday night Russia is estimated to have an armed force of more than 4,000,000 men organized into about 175 divisions.

With all its European satellites, the committee reported, Moscow could boast another 1,000,000 men under arms. This does not include communist China's armed forces.

Against this strength, the Atlantic pact nations, including the United States and Canada, had about 4,500,000 men under arms as of December, 1950, the committee said.

But comparisons were difficult. The figure for the 11 Atlantic pact countries included the army, navy and air forces. It did not include the estimated 2,700,000 men in organized reserves.

It was not clear from the committee's report whether communist air and naval forces were included in the iron curtain figures, but if they were not each of the divisions would have more than 20,000 men.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the foreign relations group said the report was issued so committees would have "certain basic facts" before them in considering the question of sending American soldiers across the Atlantic.

The committee figures showed that as of last December the United States had 15 men per 1,000 of population under arms; France 16, the United Kingdom 14, Belgium 12 and The Netherlands 11.

Attlee Ouster Sought Again

LONDON — (AP) — Winston Churchill introduced a "no confidence" motion in the house of commons Wednesday night, challenging the labor government's ability to carry out the British rearmament program.

The surprise action of the conservative leader came after Labor Defense Minister Emanuel Shinwell told the house the army plan would hit its peak in 1953, with weapons pouring from plants at four times the present rate.

If successful, Churchill's motion would force Prime Minister Attlee's government to resign and bring an election. Labor now has a margin of eight in the house.

Post Office Payrolls Padded

BOSTON — (INS) — Postal inspectors were reported Wednesday night as "conservatively" estimating payroll padding at the South station postal annex at four million dollars.

One foreman was reported to have made $175 weekly more than his salary by manipulating the cards for absentee workers.

Hundreds of workers reportedly held shipyard and other defense jobs during the hours they were supposed to be handling mail.

Other postal employees were reported to be working in the courts, schools, fire department and in the registry of motor vehicles and drawing salaries from two separate sources.

An estimated 35 per cent of the 4,500 regular annex workers were away from their jobs at various times during the day. Another 20 per cent were reported paying outright bribes to have their time cards punched.

One report said that 28 men already caught in the payroll padding schemes were only a small fraction of the total involved.

Young Music Writers Now Have Chance

Public Will Listen To Notice — Hanson

By NANCY BENJAMIN

Star Staff Writer

Promise of significant contributions to music by contemporary composers was voiced Wednesday evening by Dr. Howard Hanson, noted composer-conductor.

In the second of three Montgomery fellowship lectures on importance of music in contemporary American culture, Dr. Hanson emphasized the need of environment and audience reaction in allowing musical genius to come to fruition.

"All necessary conditions exist in America to aid our own contributions to the world's store of beauty," the Nebraska-born lecturer told an audience of more than 200 in Love library auditorium.

Future musical development, Dr. Hanson said, "will follow a middle ground, not denying the emotional nor rejecting experimentation."

Dr. Hanson explained the work of Eastman school of music in offering for the first time the chance for young composers to hear their works performed.

"Hearing his own music performed is one of the essentials of a composer's education," he stated. Dr. Hanson is director of the Eastman school of music, which sponsors such student concerts.

Other essentials for musical productivity named were a great wealth of creative talent, wide opportunity to study, and a receptive, open-minded audience.

"In comparison with the 1880's, the composer of today has a fighting chance," Dr. Hanson concluded, "and a widening field for performance and awakening audience interest."

The final lecture in the Montgomery series will be given Friday at 8 p.m. in Love library auditorium. Dr. Hanson's topic will be "Obstacles To Progress."

Navy Buildup Is Approved

... Bill Moves Along

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The senate armed services committee stamped approval on the navy's multi-billion dollar construction program Wednesday and sent it swiftly along toward final passage.

Calling for a $2,740,092,000 buildup in the navy's fighting power, the bill provides for a large fleet of submarines and surface ships, including a new type of aircraft carrier big enough to handle atomic bombers.

While the armed services committee gave unanimous support to the program, the senate-house atomic committee met secretly to learn about the navy's progress toward an atomic powered submarine.

The committee's chairman, Senator McMahon (D-Conn.), did not disclose details of the report, but he obviously was pleased with it.

Valley Banker Dies In Omaha

OMAHA — (AP) — T. F. Green, 73, Valley banker and civic leader, died yesterday in an Omaha hospital of a heart ailment.

Last September Green held open house at the Bank of Valley to commemorate his 50 years in the banking business, and 35 years in the Valley bank.

Survivors include his widow, a son, Harry of Valley, and two daughters, Mrs. Lucile Nordgren and Mrs. James Roberts of Omaha. A sister and two brothers including S. S. Green of Kearney also survive.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Thursday in the Baptist-Methodist church in Valley. Burial will be in Omaha.

Pepperdine Broke

LOS ANGELES — (INS) — Philanthropist George Pepperdine, 64, who founded Pepperdine college in Los Angeles in 1937 with a two and one-half million dollar grant, said Wednesday he is insolvent.

The ex-multimillionaire automobile supply chain founder testified he is dependent upon his wife for daily living expenses.

Pepperdine announced his insolvency in Superior court in answer to a $10,000 judgment awarded Maxwell L. Rubin, Chicago attorney, on a promissory note signed by Pepperdine in 1949.

Grand Total Of Expenditures On Veterans Is $65 Billion

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Federal expenditures for veterans of all U. S. wars have reached a total of $65,670,000,000, the veterans administration reported Wednesday.

That is the total sum laid out through June 30, 1950, by VA and its predecessors, the former veterans bureau, the national home for disabled volunteer soldiers and the pension bureau.

The annual report of Veterans Administrator Carl R. Gray, Jr., the greatest expense—$25,334,431,631—has been for pensions, death compensation, disability allowances and retirement pay for war veterans and their dependents.

The grand total includes $437,109,555 spent for construction of veterans hospitals and homes, $426,586,209 for medical and hospital services, $52,819,549 in salaries and expenses, and $14,321,181,277 in World War II readjustment benefits such as education, an training under the GI bill, unemployment allowances and loan guarantees.

In 1936, the sum of $3,839,120,426 was paid out as a bonus to World War I veterans.
